*) After sufficient technical mastery, this Étude must also be practised in rapid and very rapid tempo; in actual performance, however, the editor recommends a more moderate tempo than that indicated, in most editions, by the metronome-mark $\text{♩} = 116$.

 The most convenient fingering, which is to be employed in performance, is always the highest one; but the other, and more difficult, fingerings must also be mastered.

(a) forte etc. (b) etc. (c) etc. (d) etc.
(e) etc. (f) etc. (g) etc. (h) p stacc. e leggiero etc.

First system of musical notation. Treble clef with a key signature of two flats and a 3/4 time signature. The piece begins with a piano (p) dynamic. The right hand features a complex melodic line with numerous fingerings (1-5) and slurs. The left hand provides a harmonic accompaniment with chords and single notes. A first ending bracket spans the first two measures, and a second ending bracket spans the last two measures. The system concludes with a repeat sign.

Second system of musical notation. The right hand continues with intricate fingerings and slurs. The left hand accompaniment includes chords and moving lines. A first ending bracket is present. The system ends with a repeat sign.

Third system of musical notation. The right hand features a series of slurs and fingerings. The left hand accompaniment includes chords and moving lines. The system ends with a repeat sign.

Exercise. (a)

Exercise section consisting of three parts: (a), (b), and (c). Each part is a single melodic line with slurs and fingerings. Part (a) is marked with a double asterisk (), (b) with a single asterisk (*), and (c) with a double asterisk (). The word "etc." follows each part.

Exercise. (a)

Fifth system of musical notation. The right hand features a series of slurs and fingerings. The left hand accompaniment includes chords and moving lines. The system ends with a repeat sign.
